- 10:02:16 From Dale Briese : How will HUD's new report that shows that the country has a lack of housing inventory play into this sit and lie law? I posted the HUD link earlier.

10:05:23 From Terri Anderson : also need just cause and tenant protections in Spokane. it is way to easy to become unhoused through eviction and displacement at no fault of tenants.

10:05:43 From Dawn Shuster : Yes, I'd love to see the map as well

10:06:08 From Dawn Shuster : In addition the 685 bed count includes beds with barriers: Truth and UGM

10:10:24 From iPhone : a couple of people have asked if there is a database available for how many homeless beds are available each day. as far as I know there aren't. however, each shelter reports to the city on a daily basis how many beds they have left.

10:12:10 From brei gorder : Rachel Beck posts bed counts daily in Homeless in Spokane and Camp Hope Facebook groups.

10:15:08 From Dale Briese : Is the outreach just to the Homeless individual? Could there be outreach to the reporting homeowner for educational purposes?

10:15:25 From Julie Garcia : so if they are offered services and are enrolled in their services will they be allowed to stay? especially with no beds available?

10:22:41 From iPhone : where is the storage facility and how do people retrieve their stuff

10:25:39 From Jamie Knox : Let us keep in mind that our friends experiencing homelessness are part of our community, not an outside entity.

10:25:53 From Daniel Geiter : Have to run thanks for everyone's amazing work!

10:25:57 From Terri Anderson : who decides what goes into storage and what gets tossed? is an inventory taken?

10:26:12 From Debbie Cato : Thank you, Daniel. They are part of our community.

10:26:17 From Carly Cortright : Jennifer, the location is not public because at this time as it's just for items retrieved from camps. They can call 311 and we'll get them to Code to arrange a time to retrieve items

10:26:53 From Jamie Knox : What if the individual experiencing homelessness does not have a phone?

10:26:55 From Barry Barfield : Mark and Shawn's emails are in the chat

10:26:55 From Julie Garcia : where is the storage facility and when and how do they retrieve their items. I have Hillyard skate park being swept right now and would like to tell them where to retrieve their items and cars being taken now.

10:26:58 From Jose Trejo : Terri, the official policy will be available in next few weeks.

10:27:16 From Carly Cortright : Thanks, Jose. You beat me to it

10:31:13 From Shari DeBerg : Are there any media representatives with us today?

10:32:28 From Barry Barfield : Please ask POD how we - providers - can support them.

10:33:38 From Johnny Edmondson : Thanks everyone!

10:35:08 From Dawn Shuster : There are not enough shelter beds available vs the number of homeless. So even if they access resources, they will probably continue to be camping (in another location) until they get permanent housing. Are the individuals moving from one camping location to another?

10:35:20 From Francis Adewale : Thanks Shawn. It was a seminal moment for us. Thanks to everyone that made that happen.

10:38:30 From Dawn Shuster : Do they take into account barriers, UGM, Truth have barriers?

10:39:36 From Maurice : Any database of shelter bed availability should also be made available to service providers.

10:39:55 From Brei Gorder : Essentially that's the HMIS

10:40:40 From Dawn Shuster : if there are not shelter beds available for that particular individual, and you don't issue a citation, do you still sweep them or tell them to move? Where do you tell them to go?

10:45:04 From brei gorder : A homeless man was crushed in a garbage truck the other day. As wonderful as all the outreach that's being done sounds, what is the city doing to address the shelter beds?

10:45:56 From Shari DeBerg : When things are seized, are individuals given something on paper as to directions where to claim their belongings?
